February 1, 2021

My Dear Mohini:

Congratulations are in order for you to take your well-deserved bow. With all the obstacle that took place the past year, you came through with flying colors. I've hear nothing but praise for your event and Caroline did you proud in the crowning of a new Mrs. India -World.

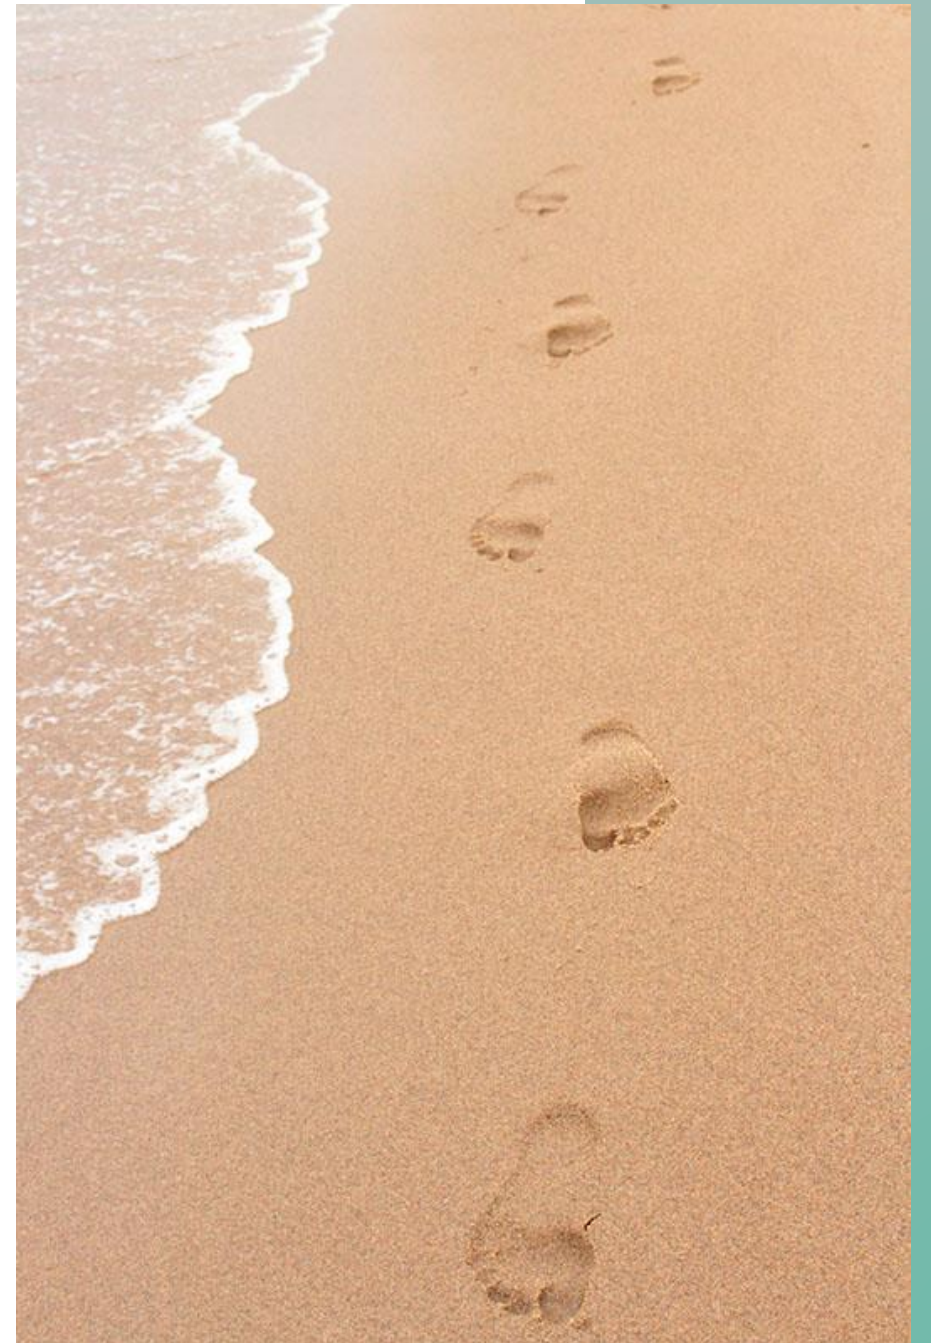

Please know that David and I have always been honored to have you in the Mrs. World family. I will continue his legacy with Tana in the fold.

Wishing you the best of luck in all your endeavors.

As always with Love,

Founder of Mrs India Inc Mohini Sharma on the pageantry industry and what it means to her

PHOTOGRAPH BY MOHINI SHARMA

She's adventurous, outgoing, and before is taking risks. She's ambitious and has been successful in converting her losses into her greatest wins. The founder of Mrs. India Inc and the winner of Mrs. India 2016, Mohini Sharma occupied the platform soon after the partook in the pageant. "It is a platform that not only give women the opportunity to showcase their beauty, intelligence and talent, but also provide a space where they explore and discover themselves through a challenging journey," she tells us. She serves as the inspiration every woman needs at some point in her life — not the cause of the race, but journey in the pageantry industry has been influential, to say the least. Ahead, we chat with her about her career story, the state of the pageantry space in India, a role model she looks up to, and more.

What's your career story? How did you end up where you are now?

The year 2007, and I was standing on the Mrs. India stage. I was one of the contestants. Since shortly had some modelling gigs for me, I saw the crown that year. It was a defining moment in my life and almost it is more ways than I had imagined.

In that moment, I knew I wanted women to experience what I was experiencing — a phenomenal high, an exceptional ride, this will exhilaration and fulfilled confidence. Usually, it happens that women give up on themselves after they are married and I wanted to break that habit in any small way. I wanted to inspire them to dream again. I knew I would do everything in my means to provide a platform for transformation to married women, to rediscover themselves and to be the best version of themselves.

I did win Mrs. India's crown but I couldn't win Mrs. World, which made me feel dejected. Winning and being a part of me from and how you change your losses into wins decides how successful you are and, hence, I became the founder of Mrs. India Inc. My love further reinforced my ambition to acquire the Mrs. India brand to provide not only a platform to married women where they showcase their beauty, grace and confidence, but also to provide them with the support and guidance required to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with other contestants across the globe. This platform offers every single contestant the opportunity to receive the best advice and tips to take on the world as an international stage.

What's the one thing about being the founder of Mrs. India Inc that you enjoy the most?

I think it is the moment when these lovely women are in the wings, waiting to take the center stage and shine under the spotlight. That's when it dawns upon me that they have blossomed and come into their own at last. It's a great moment for me as I witness their transformation journey up close. I love meeting these beautiful ladies from different corners of the country, hearing their stories and understanding how they have become what they have become.

Do you have a role model?

Yes, I look up to Priyanka Chopra — she is one of the most powerful pageant winners out there, and has raised the benchmark and made some impossible things possible.

Who has had the biggest impact on your career?

Family has had a major impact on my career. My parents have always supported me and made sure that my dream come true.

do you think about the state of the pageantry industry right now? Would you like to see it evolve in any way in the future?

With me involved in an extent where they have been more about personality and skills than just beauty, over the years. The criteria has changed from being only about beauty norms to encompassing intelligence, grace, and so on. I have seen something unique which makes us stand out from the crowd. I am seeing it evolve organically, becoming more inclusive — and in the future, I can see even broader platform, open for both men and women alike.

One of the biggest events of this year, Mrs India Inc presents Mrs India World 2020-2021, governed by the Delhi, Daman, was held on January 23, 2021 at The Delhi, Daman. Mrs. Navdeep Kaur was crowned the winner and will represent India at Mrs World 2020, followed by Anupreet Kaur as 1st runner up and Shrut Chauhan as 2nd runner up. She was adjudged the winner by competing against 61 participants, from all parts of India.

The participants went through multiple rounds that allowed them to showcase their talents to an eminent panel comprising pageant director Mohini Sharma, President Soha Ali Khan, Charity ambassador Vivek Oberoi, Mrs World 2020 Caroline Jurk and Costume Designer Masumi Nawasaka.

Speaking of her experience with Mrs India 2021, pageant director and former winner of Mrs India Mohini Sharma, said, "With Mrs India, we are on a mission to identify the unseen potential possessed by women. Our amazing panel members are achievers in their right and have served as an inspiration to our Queens. Soha Ali Khan is a wonderful actress, a fantastic mom and a lovely person of royal lineage. I think her humility, despite her achievements is quite inspiring. Vivek Oberoi's passion for bringing about change in the society is infectious. Caroline Jurk, Mrs World 2020, has lots a lot of insight, being a winner at a global level. Mrs India Inc is, not just a beauty pageant, but a journey of transformation and self-growth. Masumi's outfits wear less than the grace and appearance befitting a queen. All these wonderful panelists have surely added value to this journey, for the participants.

President Soha Ali Khan too expressed her joy and pride for the platform. "I'm glad to be associated with Mrs India, a platform that's committed to giving women a chance to showcase their talent and shine as an individual. It's helping to change the perception about the world towards married women and break the stereotypes surround us. The balance between fulfilling our responsibility as wife, mother and also towards oneself, is not easy to achieve. I think every woman is a winner for being able to achieve it."

ROC's Piyush Singh Chauhan says confidence is necessary before success
Power Grid Corporation of India announces change in directorate

New Delhi [India], March 1 (ANI/ThePRTree): One of the biggest events of this year, Mrs India Inc presents Mrs India World 2020-2021, powered by the Deltin, Daman, was held on January 23, 2021 at The Deltin, Daman.

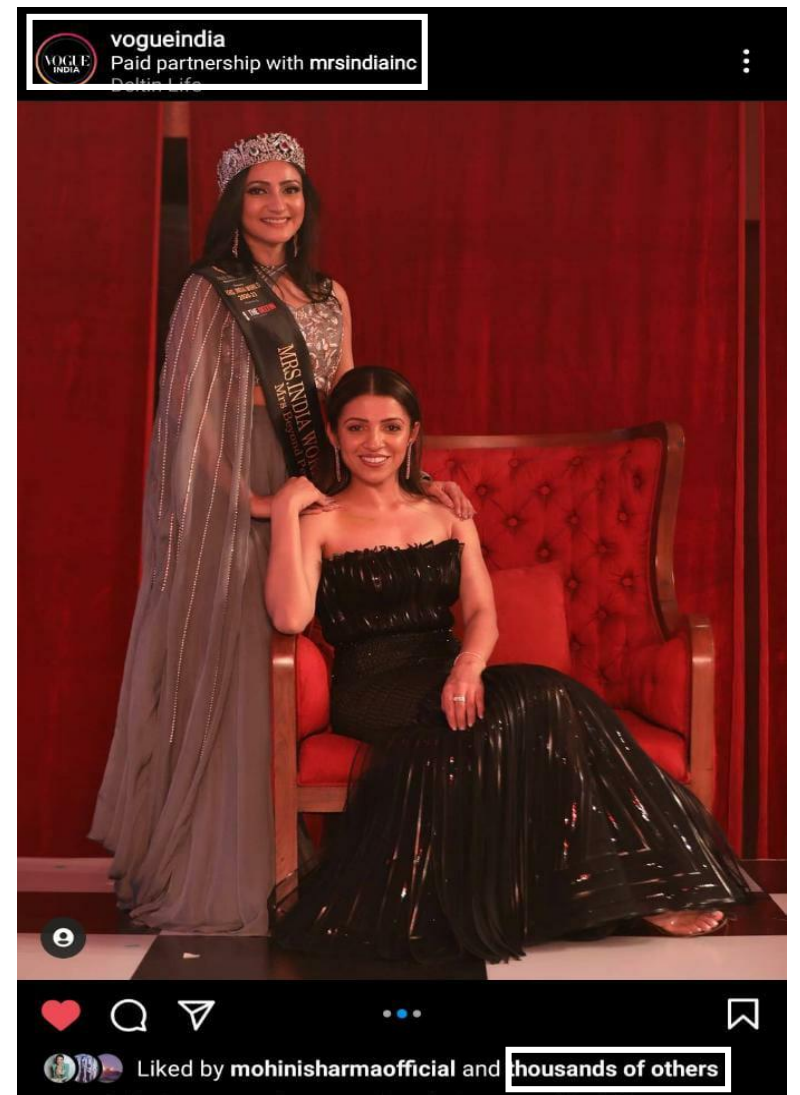

Mrs. Navdeep Kaur was crowned the winner and will represent India at Mrs World 2020, followed by Anupreet Kaur as 1st runner up and Shruti Chauhan as 2nd runner up. She was adjudged the winner by competing against 61 participants, from all parts of India.

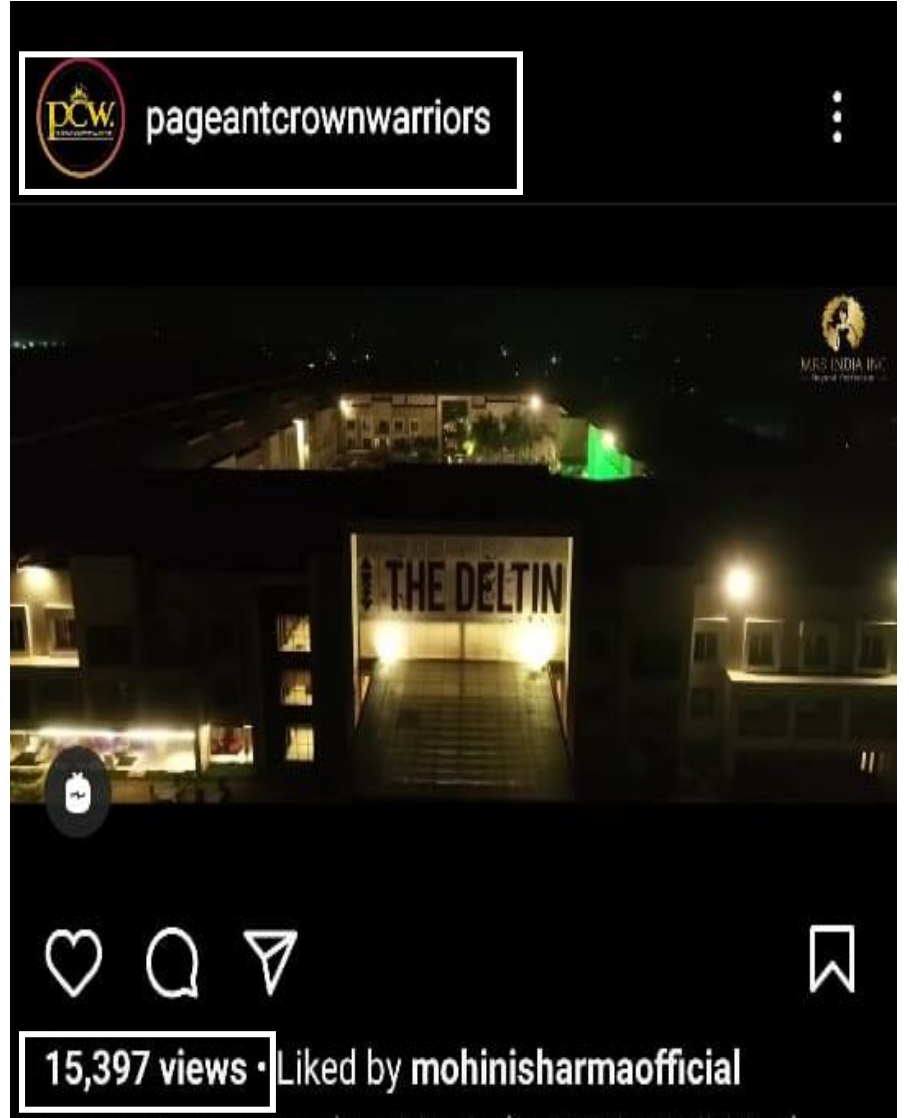

The participants went through multiple rounds that allowed them to showcase their talents to an eminent panel comprising pageant director Mohini Sharma, Presider Soha Ali Khan, Charity ambassador Vivek Oberoi, Mrs World 2020 Caroline Jurie and Couture Designer Masumi Mewawalla.

Speaking of her experience with Mrs IndiaInc. 2021, pageant director and former winner of Mrs India Inc. Mohini Sharma, said, "With Mrs IndiaInc., we are on a mission to identify the unseen potential possessed by women. Our amazing panel members are achievers in their right and have served as an inspiration to our Queens. Soha Ali Khan is a wonderful actress, a fantastic mom and a lovely person of royal lineage. I think her humility, despite her achievements is quite inspiring. Vivek Oberoi's passion for bringing about change in the society is infectious. Caroline Jurie, Mrs World 2020, has lent a lot of insight, being a winner at a global level. Mrs India Inc is, not just a beauty pageant, but a journey of transformation and self-growth. Masumi's couture wear lent them the grace and appearance befitting a queen. All these wonderful panellists have surely added value to this journey, for the participants.

Presider Soha Ali Khan too expressed her joy and pride for the platform. "I'm glad to be associated with Mrs IndiaInc., a platform that's committed to giving women a chance to showcase their talent and shine as an individual. It's helping to change the perception about the world towards married women and break the stereotypes surround us. The balance between fulfilling our responsibility as wife, mother and also towards oneself, is not easy to achieve. I think every woman is a winner for being able to achieve it."
